Dear Parents, Friends & Community,

The students have been training hard for cross country. Last Friday we travelled to Stockinbingal for our first inter-school cross country run. The students really demonstrated their resilience and made the distance, however, upon reflection they realised that they needed to step up their training for the PSSA cross country competition, which I can proudly report they have done. They are currently averaging 6-8 kms per day in training. Keep up your persistence to succeed.

This week our years 5 and 6 combined with Stockinbingal to compete in the Small Schools Soccer tournament. Our students displayed excellent sportsmanship qualities and manners. We only lost by 1 goal!!! Great effort team.

The classroom has been busy with great learning. We have been transforming passages with common, proper and pro-nouns, adjectives, verbs, adverbs and prepositions with similes added to the mix. We are now really "dressing up" our sentences.

We also had to dive into the learning pit and learn the fine art of blanket stitch to make our very own "angry bird plush toy". They have turned out fabulous! Well done everyone for having the growth mindset to work your way out of the learning pit with great results.

Our focus this week has been persistence and that goals won't be achieved if we do not persist. We have learnt that even if we had all the talent; we need persistence to be successful. Remind your child when things get tricky to keep persisting. An essential life skill.

The students are enjoying our lunch time book café and reading Charlie and the Chocolate factory. Last week we announced (with the amazing support of our P&C) that all students will be travelling to Sydney on June 19th to see the new musical Charlie and the Chocolate Factory. We will stay overnight in the rocks and visit Taronga Zoo the next day so we may see firsthand some of the amazing animals and birds we have been learning about in our Antarctica unit. Understandably we are very excited. Thank you parents and our P&C! What a great learning experience.

Have great fortnight
