Friday 2nd August, 2019

Dear Parents, Friends & Community,

Welcome back to our all students and families. We have started the term with Team Recipro. These are our HOW2Learn hero's for this term. Our focus last week was listening and what good listeners do, and this week we are focusing on empathy which ties in nicely with our novel study The One and Only Ivan and Geography lessons around Africa. The students have really developed their prior knowledge around Africa and the Lowland Western Gorilla and building great empathy for animals held in captivity.

We are promoting healthy eating in conjunction with Fresh For Kids healthy canteen campaign. The students have to eat two healthy—fresh fruit or vegetables at school to earn a sticker. When they collect two stickers they can go into a draw to win amazing prizes... so keep bringing in those lovely fruit and vegetables.

We are also supporting Stockinbingal with the Envision hands campaign. An amazing organisation that converts milk bottle lids (with the No: 2 or 4 recycling symbol inside the lid) through the art of 3D printing into prosthetic limbs for children. There are three collection points in Wallendbeen, at the school, the community Post Office and Cootamundra Library.

It was exciting to see the 50th anniversary of the moon landing on the moon just before school returned. During science we have and will be learning about the start of the solar system, what's in space, exploring space, why we explore space and the technological advances made because of the space program; with a STEM challenge to consolidate our learning... very exciting stuff, so stay tuned for what we discover.

May I encourage all parents to check their SeeSaw accounts as we will be posting their great learning via the app, plus loads of reminders of what is happening in and around our school.

Have a great fortnight
